

Boy Kill Boy, Showdown

So you finally figured that i could work you out This time i remember we began to doubt You said the wrong thing I did the wrong thing

So so, so much of the time i don't know where you are i'm starting to believe this wont go very far This time, mistake is mine

I can see them looking over now, i can hear them talking once too much is this all we had to show for the seven years cause we tried and we might survive for the other wish
is this all we had to show for the seven years
cause we tried and we might survive for the other wish this is my showdown

Maybe theres some other fella that you never know Maybe hes some other one who'll never let you go I said the wrong thing
i did the wrong thing
like a fool i enver listened i just put you down such a shame some other strangers gonna get you now this time mistake is mine

I can see them looking over now,
i can hear them talking once too much
is this all we had to show for the seven years cause we tried and we might survive for the other wishes
is this all we had to show for the seven years
this is my showdown

I can see them looking over now,
i can hear them talking once too much
Is this all we had to show for the seven years
cause we tried and we might survive for the other wishes
is this all we had to show for the seven years
this is my showdown
this is my showdown
