

Boyssetsfire, Bonus Track 1

Not in the running
But this rain is nothing new to me anyway
See my reflection
No where near who I should be
The spirit is willing
But the anchors of my flesh do hold me down
With every distraction I lose more of who I should be

Chorus:

How many times to try before i realize the flaws in my design make me have to ask why
Why'd you make me so weak
I try but I'm incomplete
Is this all there is to me

How many chances at redemption do i think i'll ever get Keep changing my rhythms for a shot at something more
Miracles happen
So why do i feel like I've been left behind
Is it in my nature to look for what i can't find

Chorus

Is this all there is
I should be a better man
Is this all there is
I could pick myself up again
Is this all there is
I hope that one day I'll make a stand
But right now this is all there is to me
No matter how I dream
I will never be complete
Cause right now this is all there is to me
