Boysetsfire, Phone Call 4am

you see my desires live and die for you insighting and while in the dark with you it's never enough, but i promise you i'll still be right here if you ask me too i'm not going to lie you know the truth so believe me please believe i've lost myself inside of you believe i always do seeing that line lies in between true light and if i could write, i would make it right but my witt can't retain what i thought of what i had and all that is left is my awkward stare i'm not going to lie you know the truth so believe me please believe i've lost myself inside of you oh believe i always do where ever you go leaves a memory struggles to kill this defending plea but if you see through you will finally see that i've lived long enough, and my heart has been living in dying pain i'm not going to lie you know the truth so believe me please believe in lost myself inside of you please believe i always do.
