

Boyzone, She's The One

I was afraid
Of ever letting you in now
And showing you my heart
Was something that won't begin
I was on a road
Blown by the wind
Life was just a stormy sea
Just waiting to rescind
But you lift me up
And you give me hope
And with every breath in my body
I want the world to know why

She is the one that I am certain of yeah
She is the one that I am sure of oh yeah
She is the one
She is the one
And I thank the Lord for what she's done

I was amazed
Too good to be true
You know I never planned this
Coming out of the blue
So off that road
I've made my mistakes
I open up to you now
Hope your heart will not break

But you lift me up
And you give me hope
And with every breath in my body
I want the world to know why

She is the one, that I am certain of yeah
She is the one, that I am sure of oh yeah
She is the one
She is the one
And I thank the Lord

She is the one that I am certain of yeah
She is the one and I thank the Lord
For what she's done
Thank the Lord
For what she's done
And I thank the Lord for what she has done
