

Boyzone, Stronger

running out of options running out of time running out of easy ways of thing to say nothing left but goodbye baby, please forgive me if I act so surprise

I thought that we were stronger then that
I thought that we would fight it little harder then we did to find a way to just keep hanging on I can't believe it's gone

I got to learn to take it I got to learn to breath right now,
I am feeling faithless in graceless arms but I got to learn to believe that it happened for a reason but it's just too hard to see

I thought that we were stronger then that
