

Bracket, Suicide Note

You are the other side of me
Dying from my selfish disease
I'd come undone to set you free
And give you back integrity

When I, can't find, peace of mind
You won't find me searching desperately
When I, can't find, lost time
I will make up for lost misery

I've been this way for far too long (for far too long)
A blues singer without a song (without a song)
I turn my rights into a wrong (rights into a wrong)
And now my life is far too gone (far too gone)

When I, can't find, peace of mind
You won't find me searching desperately
When I, can't find, lost time
I will make up for lost misery

My sadness is morbidly obese
And my tears will flow like poetry
When I pour my heart out
Over your head
And into your soul

Now I'm feeding off your sympathy
And I've given you a taste of me
Cry me a river
And send me to the sea
Away from everyone

You are the other side of me (other side of me)
Dying from my selfish disease (my selfish disease)
I'd come undone to set you free (to set you free)
And give you back integrity (back integrity)

When I, can't find, peace of mind
You won't find me searching desperately
When I, can't find, lost time
I will make up for lost misery
