

Brad Sucks, I Think I Started A Trend washed up on the shoreline getting sand in my face i took it hard and now i'm spending my days drunk lying around in total comfort and sin and if you believe me i can do it again sold out all my friends and then i took it easy everybody said they never would believe me i paid no attention to the very end oh yeah i think i started a trend dead clothes horses running crazy out of the gates player haters in the meadow learning how to create big belly well he said he was a man from LA he seemed okay and so i signed it away
