

Braid, Always Something There To Remind Me

I walk along the city streets you used to walk along with me
And every step I take reminds me of just how we used to be
Oh how can I forget you, girl
When there is always something there to remind me
Always something there to remind me
Shadows fall, I pass the small café where we would dance at night
And I can't help recalling how it felt to kiss and hold you tight
How can I forget you, girl
When there is always something there to remind me
Always something there to remind me
I was born to love her
And I will never be free
You'll always be a part of me
Woah woah woah
If you should find to miss the sweet and tender love we used to share
Just go back to the places where we used to go and I'll be there
Oh how can I forget you, girl
When there is always something there to remind me
Always something there to remind me
I was born to love her
And I will never be free
You'll always be a part of me
When there is always something there to remind me
Always something there to remind me
