

Brand New Sin, Once In A Lifetime

Emptiness fills up this space
Memories i can't erase
Things you said and done
Consume my soul

Cleansed my soul of all these sins
Embraced by loneliness
Mother always said it would be this way

Remember the time
You walked away
I knew these was
Was my fate

Once in a lifetime

Watched it all just slip away
Take this to an early grave
Darkness falls it lights my way
