

Brandon Heath, You Decide

It's up to you, you make the call
It's always been your choice
Maybe your right
And were all wrong
Were only some voices
Cause in the end it all depends
I'll step aside and let you decide

There was a season in your life
When everyone was smarter
The best Advice that they could give
You'll have to work much harder
Then finally someday you'll be wise
Realize only you decide

Cause everybody has to choose
Sink or swim win or lose
No not everybody gets it right
Fight or flight, so will you
Decide

So you bent the rules
Denied the truth
And all the strong suggestions
You never heard
Your parents say
They're giant misperceptions
Of who you really are, you've come this far
Here you are, you decide

Cause' everybody has to choose sink or swim win or lose
Know everybody gets it right fight or flight so will you decide

Make your move
It's up to you
Don't let the moment pass you by
All eyes on you
Whatcha gonna do
With all the swirling through your head
You've got to use your heart instead

No not everybody gets it right fight or flight so will you decide

Cause' everybody has to choose sink or swim win or lose
Know that everybody gets it right fight or flight so will you decide

You decide
