Brandtson, Shannon Said something to bloom but not my eyes I'm waiting for you alone in my room except for the flies looking for light THIS NIGHT ALL AROUND THE ROOM my hands held with dark why's it so hard for me? I hold back my heart and it all falls apart again two seconds from the end why am I the same? it makes no sense when you keep promising change why's it so hard for me? it's not right this time I'm way left of right I guess I just should have known

(CHORUS) it's always like this it hasn't always been I never saw the change but I need one again something so true and still so full of lies I'm high on your smile BEEN down on your words I guess I just should have known looking for light THIS NIGHT ALL AROUND THE ROOM my hands held with dark why's it so hard for me? it's not right this time I'm way left of right I guess I just should have known
