

Brandy, Love Is All That Matters

(duet with Diana Ross)
(from ABC's telefilm Double Platinum)

[Brandy]

Sometimes we make each other cry
Sometimes we're locked inside the prison's of our pride, oh yeah
Sometimes we break each other's hearts with the words we say
Let anger get in the way, too many times

But always after all, love
Love is all that matters, love
After everything one thing remains the same
One thing we cannot change, oh

We all have one heart, love
And one heart needs another
'Cause love, love is all that matters
Love is all that matters

[Brandy & Diana Ross]
It matters after all, oh (oh)

[Diana Ross]

Sometimes we search this world for gold
When all we really need is just a hand to hold
Sometimes we let the greatest treasure just slip away
With the words we forget to say, too many times

[Brandy & Diana Ross]
But always after all, love
Love is all that matters (hey...) {hey}
After everything one thing remains the same
One thing we cannot change, hey...{No}

We all, we all have one heart, love
And one heart needs another
'Cause love is all that matters
Love is all that matters It matters after all

[Brandy]

After all that we've been through

[Diana Ross]

It comes down to just me and you

[Brandy & Diana Ross]

You need me and I need you

'Cause love is all that matters {Love is all that matters}
Love is all that matters {Love is all that matters}
The only thing that matters {Oh}

Love is all that matters
The only thing that matters
It matters after all Oh...{Oh}
