

Brandy, So surreal

Boy there ain't a moment of the day
That I don't contemplate about you
It would be wrong, so incomplete
Living life without you
Nobody to care when I'm alone
Nobody to comfort when I'm home
Nobody to love me as their own
Oh boy no matter what the circumstance
We make it through the weather
When the clouds start to follow me
You act as my umbrella
To shelter me from those rainy days
To heal my heart when there is pain
To take the madness all away
Oh I had to have you from the first day,
I saw you
I treat each day like it's the last day,
I'm with you
Although we're different as night and day
You got my mind and my heart and my soul
And I know this love is so surreal
We've been in love for what seems like forever
We've seen the good, seen the bad and seen the better
Come between us another could never
Boy we be here together
When times get hard your the shoulder I lean on
I guarantee you're the one I can count on
It's not the same boy when ever you are gone
So, never hesitate just tell me when to come and I'll be there
All you gotta do is utter my name and then I will appear
Together forever no one else could ever compare
If you're gone out of my life nothing I do will be right
I had to have you from the first day,
I saw you
I treat each day like it's the last day,
I'm with you
Although we're different as night and day
You got my mind and my heart and my soul
And I know this love is so surreal
I hope you know I don't ever want to be away from you
Cause your smile and your touch and the things you do
Keep pulling me close and it feels so real
So surreal, feels so real, so surreal
Boy I love boy I love boy I love you
I had to have you from the first day,
I saw you
I treat each day like it's the last day,
I'm with you
Although we're different as night and day
You got my mind and my heart and my soul
And I know this love is so surreal
I had to have you from the first day,
I saw you
I treat each day like it's the last day,
I'm with you
Although we're different as night and day
You got my mind and my heart and my soul
And I know this love is so surreal