Brass Construction, Can You See The Light

Hey
It's that time again
Everybody won't you get up right about here
We gonna do it tonight
It that right y'all
Ha, ha
Say, "Ho-Ho"
Lawdy, lawdy, lawdy
Just a little this and a little that
Sing, y'all, sing

People all over the world Searchin' for direction Searchin' for a ground Now we got the connection (That's right)

Get up, let's get down Hey...to the real nitty gritty, yeah Cause tonight's the night, gonna make it right Put your head up to the sky, let the music take you high

Can you see the light (I can see the light)
I, I mean can you see the light (I can see the light)
Hey, can you see the light (I can see the light)
Can you see that hell of a shinin' light, y'all (I can see the light)
Come party

There's a message in music, y'all Check it out Just a little of this and a little of that, y'all, so Hey Ooh, come on

Won't you take my hand Come along now Yeah Won't you take my hand Come on, come on

Go down

You could do it now, you could do it, y'all, come on You could do it, y'all It's written Where there's a will there's a way And I say unto you, "Follow me" And you shall see an ever shinin', everlasting, ever shining light

Can you see the light (I can see the light) Can you see the light (I can see the light) Can you see the light (I can see the light) Can you (I can see the light)

Can you see the light (I can see the light)
Can you see that hell of a shinin' light, y'all (I can see the light)
I say, I say can you see the light
