

Brave Combo, Buscando Tu Corazon

You're driving off to the horizon
Your journey has finally begun
You'll ramble across every mountain
To harbors along every shore
Buscando tu corazon

You say this house feels like a prison
And you're trapped by the things that you love
You look high and low for some purpose
And maybe someday you'll come home
Buscando tu corazon

Go to your new destination
I hope you can find peace at last
But if you discover it's empty
Remember that you have a past
Buscando tu corazon

Go to your new destination
I hope you can find peace at last
But if you discover it's empty
Remember that you have a past
Buscando tu corazon

Repeat first verse