

Breaking Benjamin, Firefly

You, my friend,
You're a lot like them,
But I caught your lie, and you know I did,
Now I'm lost in you,
Like I always do,
And I'd die to win, cause I'm born to lose

Firefly, could you shine your light?
Now I love your ways, 'cause they're just like mine.
Now I'm justified as I fall in line,
And it's hard to try when you're open wide.

Take my hand,
We'll be off, and then
We'll come back again to a different land.
Now I like this way.
You can go away
If you guess the name you cannot replace.

Firefly, could you shine your light?
Now I love your ways, 'cause they're just like mine!
Now I'm justified as I fall in line,
And it's hard to try when you're open wide.

Bring me... your enemies...
Lay them... before me...
And walk away...
walk away...
WALK AWAY...

Firefly, could you shine your light?
Now I love your ways, 'cause they're just like mine!
Now I'm justified as I fall in line,
And it's hard to try when you're open wide.

Fuck you firefly, have you lost your light?
Now I hate your ways, 'cause they're just like mine!
So you've lost, my friend... such a sorry end,
And I don't know why, so I choke and smile...
Smile...
