

Breathe, Got To Get By

How have you been, I haven't seen you for so long.
Strange as it seems, the memories of you linger on.
Remember that day, my car broke down in the rain.
Well, all you could say, was let's kill time another way.
We thought our love would do it.
But then we seem to lose it...but we are doing fine.
I hear you're doing fine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
Through a friend of mine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
You seem to be happy, you found someone who understands.
Well how about me, yes I am still a single man.
We thought our love would do it.
But then we seem to lose it, but we are doing fine.
I hear you're doing fine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
Through a friend of mine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
I hear, I hear you're doing fine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
Through a friend of mine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
It seems we're like two ships at sea that sail with different destinies, only together for awhile.
Now you've got your life, and I've got mine.
It's funny how things can change with time.
Only together for a while.
We thought our love would do it.
But then we seem to lose it, but we are doing fine.
I hear you're doing fine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
Through a friend of mine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
I hear, I hear you're doing fine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
Through a friend of mine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
I hear, I hear you're doing fine, (doing fine, I hear you're doing fine).
We thought our love would do it, but then we seem to lose it. (repeat to fade)
