

Bree Runway, Be The One (feat. Khalid)

No i can't slip away in the night
Maybe someday you'd meet me in the deep end

Hear the voices in my head decide and you know I just needed a reason

Should i lay down and die without you by my side
Can you hear me cry?
All the things you've said

Then you tell me that I can't get away from the pain
When it's staring in my face

I can see the tears in your eyes
When you look in mine
Told you for the thousandth time
You should be the one for me
Should i stay here tonight?
Maybe you decide
Hoping you'd be the one
Y-you could be the one

You could be, be the one
You could be, you could be the one
Be the one, could be

You don't seem so far when you're away from me
Are you down for me? (All you've done for me)
All the memories (all that you've done)

Now we're far apart
And you're not here with me
Need your company
Like the air i breathe (all that you've done)

Should i lay down and die
Without you by my side
Can you hear me cry
All the things you've said

And then you tell me that I can't get away from the pain
When it's staring in my face

I can see the tears in your eyes
When you look in mine
Told you for the thousandth time
You should be the one for me
Should i stay here tonight
Maybe you decide
Hoping you'd be the one
Y-you could be the one

I can see the tears in your eyes
When you look in mine
Told you for the thousandth time
You should be the one for me
Should I stay here tonight (stay here)
Maybe you decide
Hoping you'd be the one
Y-you could be the one

You could be, be the one
You could be, you could be the one
Be the one, could be

You could be the one
Be the one, could be
You could be the one
Be the one, could be

Can't ignore the, feelings that, I, you should know, thousand times
