

Breed 77, The Only Ones

You hear me crawling I'm inside of you
See all the cracks appear all over you
And before long, I will turn into you
And you will see you are

We are waiting for the clouds to clear
We are the wind, the shadows that you fear
We are waiting for the sun to appear
Sun to appear

We are the children that got left behind
Never forgotten we are in your mind
We are the ones
The only ones
The ones you can't remember

Now all the others are a memory
A faded dream that never got to be
And if you'll wait, you'll see the back of me
And then you'll see we are

We are waiting for the clouds to clear
We are the wind, the shadows that you fear
We are waiting for the sun to appear
Sun to appear

Never forgotten we are in your mind
We are the ones
The only ones
The ones you can't remember

We are the children that got left behind
Never forgotten we are in your mind
We are the ones
The only ones
The ones you can't remember

See inside
You will find
You are
See will find
You are
See inside
You will find
You are
See inside
You will find
You are

Never forgotten we are in your mind
We are the ones
The only ones

We are the children that got left behind
Never forgotten we are in your mind
We are the ones
The only ones

We are the ones
The only ones

The ones you can't remember
We are the ones
We are the ones
We are, we are, we are the ones
We are the ones
We are the ones
We are, we are, we are the ones
We are the ones
We are the ones
We are, we are, we are the ones
