

Brenda Lee, You're My Man Again

You're my man again, I can tell the way you hold me you're my man again
I feel it when ya scold me, love is real again
No need to count to ten, you are my man again
Don't know why I went, it happened oh so suddenly
We touched and then ya kissed me oh so tenderly again again
Oh I remember then the how, and why, the when
I'll try to be part of you fulfilling days, making love to you
You're happy, I'm happy, it's thrilling me
You're my man, you're my man again
Our love is stronger now, it needed reassuring, but no longer now
The struggle, the enduring, overcome somehow
We love together now, our love is stronger now
Cause you're my man, you're my man again