

Brent White, Empty Now

I lost everything that's good, When I walked away from you
Did I go and do the wrong thing this time,
Tryin' hard just to bite my tongue, So I'm gonna turn and run,
I'm Gonna go out the door, won't come back no more

I guess it's over
I don't want to fake it anymore
So I'll just keep walking out the door

I drive away now I'm all alone, 'Cause I had to be the one the one who just could not be wrong.
Walking in to this empty house, 'Cause Inside I'm empty now.
I see you smilin' back at me through that frame

And I guess it's over
Nothing will ever feel the same
And I am the only one to blame

(Bridge)
But tomorrow is a lonely day, there may be another way around it
If you'd come back to me,
We don't need a reason why or some alibi, You know I'm sorry

I lost everything that's good, When I walked away from you
Did I go and do the wrong thing this time,
