

Brian May, Why Don't We Try Again

After the storm there's the dead of night
It seems there's no way back for me
So little comfort in my lonely bed
To know

That it had to be
And now I miss you in so many ways
You know I miss you for so many
Lonely days

Oh...

Why don't we try again
In the dark there's a desert flower
It blooms where no-one ever sees
Our love was stronger than history
Our love will never cease to be
How can I live with you-as-a memory
You hold

The best part of me - oh -
And now I miss you in so many ways
You know I miss you for so many
Lonely days

Oh...

Why don't we try again
No use me waiting by the telephone
You're gone -
It ain't gonna ring

And now I miss you in so many ways
You know I miss you for so many
Lonely days and nights
I know you miss for so many
Lonely days

Oh...

Why don't we try again
Oh...

Oh...

Why don't we try again