

Brian McKnight, Discovery

Moon needs the suns
Then the earth exists tall trees will grow
All because of mist
Then there comes light
Which is an awesome gift
Out of my eyes Visions of you appear

Discovery
The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown
To man I'm so excited Where do I begin
Ohhhhhhhh

Notice how birds fly so care free
And picture how they can bring back memories
And then there's the smile that can make someone's day
When my song was incomplete, you filled the empty space

Discovery The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown To man
I'm so excited Where do I begin
Ohhhhhhhh
So now that I have seen
An angel spread it's wings
Go on, lay me down I can die now
And ??? You came around
There's a new love found I'm not alone
Someone's at home

Yeah Discovery The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown To man
I'm so excited Where do I begin

Ohhhhhhhh Discovery
The world has yet to see
What you mean to me
Like a treasure unknown To man
I'm so excited Where do I begin
Ohhhhhhhh (Where do I begin)
Ohhhhhhhh Where do I begin
