Brian Molko Ft. Hotel Persona - Modern Kids

Modern kids future freaks

Following media beats

Everything is on the screen

Can't find a space

The computer erased your heart

We are modern kids

Living through a screen

No need to scour the streets

Your father is out drinking while

Your mother is home

Reading the bible

And you are on your own

Go ahead let your sun shine

You've got to do it your own way

Run away don't hesitate

Run away go run away go run away

Tenement kids flying on e

Pretending they don't give a shit

Dancing for something to be

So out of place

The computer erased their hearts

We are modern kids

Living through a screen

Grabbing today because tomorrow

Is too far away and you are alone

Go ahead let your sun shine

You've got to do it your own way

Run away don't hesitate

Run away go run away

They're gonna get you

Not gonna let you go

They're gonna mess you up

Not gonna let you be yourself

They're gonna tell you

Try to persuade you

They're always fucking with your head

Run Away

Go ahead let your sun shine

You've got to do it your own way

Run away don't hesitate

Run away go run away

Run away

Grabbing today because tomorrow is too far away
