

Brighten, Ready When You Are

You said it to me once or twice tonight i'll be the first to call your name if i die tonight
i want your name written on my grave just go, let it go you know now its not a race but don't let me know im ready when you are take me home

you know i shouldn't be left alone tell me whether im right but tell it to my face tonight with everything i do and everything you see how can you put up with me and i shouldn't do half the things i don't want you to see and i shouldn't be here alone tonight so just bring me home alright so i can see you
