

Bring Me The Horizon, a bullet w/ my name On -

i guess this is goodbye
i guess we got what we deserved
hold on to your heart
it's almost over
i guess i should've known
i guess a part of me still hoped
broken from the start
the beat in my chest
sounds like a swan song
you've got a bullet with my name on a moment of silence

for a lifetime laid to waste now you're underground still sounds like violence still got both feet in the grave you can't drown it out

i'm dreaming backwards
nobody answers
i won't look down
again

(my soul's collateral to you)

i'm sorry,
did my back hurt your knife?
let me kiss it better
this time i promise that i'll die do the waltz
with your alibi
and if jesus christ returns well just kill the fucker twice we get so lost, inside of your eyes we get so lost, still feel the butterflies but they're gone

your lullabies keep me awake i picked up your tab (paid in blood) saw things you never (never should) my bloody valentine of dirt
