

Britney Spears, Weakness

'I am like, like a river in the sky,
I don't know why
And the tears they have begun to fall again
Fall down on my face
I hold my own hands
So you won't see a trace of my weakness.

I will be a star in the sky
So you can see
How bright I really shine
When I'm awake
And these clouds are around
I want to make, I wanna make you so proud

Do you love me, the way you used to?
Do you want me?
Do you long for my body?
Do you feel them, feel those butterflies?
Oh baby if you don't, please take all of mine.'
