

Britta Persson, Winter Tour

The music we were listening to, it is still my favorite music
It brings forth other feelings though, it is nice to be this much alive
I was not done
I met one of the guys today, one of two with biblical names
He was drunk and said he was fine, only problems of money kind
He was alive, I should not drive
Had more luck than one could ask for, it's like there's a God after all
Oh no, I don't think so
I'm so glad everyone is ok, I do not know what to say but ah!
