

Bro'Sis, Do You

Alle:

Do you know what it feels like?
Do you know when the time's right to go your very own way?
No matter what they say

Faiz:

I was never the one to do the things all the people do
I'm the one to decide if what I do is cool

Sha:

Never do I listen to what my parents try to tell me
A regular nine to five is not a part of my dream

Hila:

(What, ah)

I always did my own things, I set my own kind of trends
I like buyin new in sneakers and big baggy pants

Faiz:

I like going to the movies with a girl in my arm

Hila:

I like boys that are cute with a lot of charme
I like going to a party, dance a night away

Faiz:

Sometimes I stay in bed and I sleep all day

Hila:

And if I don't like something, I'll be quick to let you know

Alle:

And this is how the story goes!

Chorus repeat

Giovanni:

I'll always be curious about a whole lotta stuff and my mind always don't stop until you get enough

Hila:

If I see something that I like, I go and grap it
And if I can't get it on the same day

Indira:

Ey, there be another one just don't sweat it
You have to keep your head up and go for your dreams, sometimes it's a little harder than what it may seem

Ross:

But believe in yourself and go for what you know, sometimes it's fast, sometimes it's slow
There are moments in your life you wanna scream out loud,
And the others may wonder what is this all about

Alle:

It's just us six getting ready for the show
and this is how the story goes

Chorus repeat

Sha:

Everyone of y'all can hit on me but can't nail me
Maybe y'all put a weight on me
Ya fear me cause I'm out on my own with it
And don't get mad cause I didn't need you to get it
Hear me now, I hold it down each and everyday
And make sure I do my own thang my own way
So listen up, you can hate if you want to Fake if you want to
But you will never ever turn me into you

Chorus repeat
