

Broder Daniel, Shoreline (Album Version)

ever since I was eight or nine

I've been standing on the shoreline for all my life I've been waiting for something lasting you loose your hunger and you loose your way you get confused and then you fade away

oh this town

kills you when you are young

I'm not the boy that I used to be this town has got the youth of me all the eyes turn hollow from the work of sorrow

you die young

you die when you're young

we are shadows

oh were shadows

just shadows in the alley

you're standing on the paving by the office building

they've got so much to do never time for you

I've got nothing
nothing to wait for
where is life
in this town where is life in this town
