

Brooke Allison, I Miss You

I think of you, you're half a world away
I close my eyes, wishing you could have stayed
We fade now I'm left, with an emptiness I can't stand
There's an old piece of me, I know will never mend
I miss you so bad tonight
You were the one
Who loved me and held me and tried
In every way, I miss you "so bad tonight
Where do I go, when I am so alone?
Who will touch my hand, and take this pain away?
I don't want to talk; I just want someone who knows me
But that's you, and you're gone
When you were here, I just couldn't see"
That I Miss you so bad tonight
I still hope that, there's a chance
For you and I, somewhere "someday
These are the things I've wanted to say
But how could I, when I sent you away?
I miss you so bad tonight
You were the one
Who loved me and saved me and tried
In every way, I miss you so bad tonight
Tonight, tonight
