

Brooke Allison, Maybe Tonight

Verse 1

I've no treasure to bring
I can't turn winter to spring
But I'll do anything
To give my heart to you

Verse 2

I can't write poems of love
My hand just won't fit that glove
Still baby, my passion is real
And my heart is true

CHORUS

Maybe tonight
Your touch will be oh-so-right
Maybe I'll stumble through a silly rhyme or two
While I hold you tight
And maybe tonight
Maybe my love is all you need

Verse 3

You must've disarmed my pride
Cuz I just stand here hypnotized
But if love can move mountains
Let my love move you (move you)

BRIDGE

Please understand
I'm baring my soul just as best I can
To reveal one simple truth
I'm simply in love with you (with you, with you)

CHORUS (gtr solo)

Oh baby
Maybe I'll stumble through a simple rhyme or two
While I hold you tight
'And MAYBE TONIGHT
Maybe we'll write our melody
MAYBE TONIGHT
Maybe our love is all we need

Oh oh yeah
