Bruce Springsteen, My Fathers House

Last night I dreamed that I was a child out where the pines grow wild and tall I was trying to make it home through the forest before the darkness falls

I heard the wind rustling through the trees and ghostly voices rose from the fields I ran with my heart pounding down that broken path With the devil snappin at my heels

I broke through the trees and there in he night My fathers house stood shining hard and bright the branches and brambles tore my clothes and so But I ran till I fell shaking in his arms

I awoke and I imagined the hard things that pulled us apart
Will never again sir tear us from each others hearts
I got dressed and to that house I did ride from out on the road I could see its windows shining in lig

I walked up the steps and stood on the porch a woman I didnt recognize came and spoke to me this I told her my story and who Id come for

She said " Im sorry son but no one by that name lives here anymore"

My fathers house shines hard and bright it stands like a beacon calling me in the night Calling and calling so cold and alone Shining cross this dark highway where our sins lie unatoned
