

Bryan White, Love Happens Just Like That

You didn't notice me right beside you
I said you looked like someone that I knew
A little lie to get you to talk to me a while

Your eyes (oh how) they melt me
Your smile, girl heaven help me
Your lips kiss and tell me a thing or two Oh, the happy ending this could be
Swept away in love and all it's glory
One minute hearts are lonely
The next each other's only

Then darlin', I just know we'd fall that fast
So, don't you ever think it can't Love happens just like that

I could try and act like I don't care
But bein' shy that gets me nowhere
Though I admit, I'm a little bit scared to talk to you
A risk, yeah maybe
But that's one worth taking

'Cause I see a love in the making here with you
Lightning striking, flames igniting
In an instant, souls igniting
