

Buck O Nine, 28 Teeth

You ever been so bored that you start counting all your teeth as you squirm around and fidget in your cluttered, lousy seat you ever been so tired that your spirit begins to sigh and you're working everyday just to make ends meet.

She's got me hanging on...

You ever wake up in a hotel room but can't remember the city or state you look around, you roam around but your mind just can't relate.

you ever been so lost that a map won't do you no good as you drive around in circles in a place or town or some kind of neighborhood.

She's got me hanging on...

You ever eaten at a taco shop in Carbondale, Illinois it looks just like home but your stomachs never known the jolt its about to enjoy you ever been so desperate but for what you just don't know you see a thousand faces and you want to remember them all.

She's got me hanging on...
