

Buck O Nine, Nineteen

Not long ago there was a time when everything would blow my mind.
Then I learn a bit more, it cancelled everything I learned before.
I say hey (hey), I don't know what I'm doin'.
I should have planned on my class reunion.
I been workin' on my vision and clarity.
This is how it was meant for me.

Well anything is possible.
Anything and everything is possible to me.

When I was nineteen I thought I'd seen everything I was gonna see.
Then I see a bit more, it cancelled everything I seen before.
I say hey (hey), I thought I knew it all.
I'm settin' up for a hell of a fall.
Writin' down my philosophy songs, there's one that still holds strong.

Well anything is possible.
Anything and everything is possible to me.

With every day that goes by the less and less I wonder why.
Cause I seen 'em rise and I seen 'em fall.
But I'll never claim to have seen it all.
I say hey (hey), I ain't seen a thing.
You never know what tomorrow will bring.
I been workin' on my state of mind.
Brace yourself for the ride.

Cause anything is possible.
Anything and everything is possible to me.
