

Buck Owens, You Let Me Down

(Doyle Holly)

You gave me love that I thought was true love
Something to put my arms around
You let me love to the peak of true love
And then you let me down.

You let me build a beautiful dream
The first dream that my heart had found
And I built that dream to the peak of all dreams
And then you let me down.

You gave my heart the will to live
And then you threw it to the ground
When I tried to get up, you helped me up
And then you let me down.

--- Instrumental ---

You gave my heart the will to live
And then you threw it to the ground
When I tried to get up, you helped me up
And then you let me down...
