

Buck, Time To Say Goodbye

Nothing but a lie wrapped up in a smile
Dead behind the eyes always was your style
Monday's right as rain; tuesday I'm to blame
Then you make believe that I'm the one who's insane

Call me second best so I'll play second fiddle
Put me to the test and i'll
Fail all your riddles
I'm hanging upside down; you're laughing on the ground
Stop the world let me off of this merry-go-round

You bring the cloudy skies; I've finally realized that I'm better, better off
Without you

You're such a rainy day; why won't you go away and leave me
Better off without you

There was a time we used to shine, but those days are long gone by
No need to cry or wonder why; it's just time to say goodbye, yeah

There was a time we used to shine, but those days are long gone by
No need to cry or wonder why; it's just time to say goodbye, yeah

You bring the cloudy skies; I've finally realized that I'm better, better off without you
You're such a rainy day; why won't you go away and leave me
Better off without you
