

Buddahead, How Does I Feel?

"I know that you're feeling hurt.
Would it make it easier if I told you that
I didn't mean to hold you back?
I just couldn't let you leave this house
in the smallest hour of the night."

"How does it feel on the inside?
How does it feel to know you're alone?
How does it look from the outside
When you're leaving home?"

"Now take your time, work things out.
Don't give yourself easily to everyone that you meet."

"How does it feel on the inside?
How does it feel to know you're alone?
How does it look from the outside
When you're leaving home?"

"One day you're gonna turn around and see
I'm the only one that will always be
Everywhere you go, and when you're all alone
Just turn around and find your way back home because you're still young and life is hard.
Some things are not for your eyes
And nothing is truly lost."

"How does it feel on the inside?
How does it feel to know you're alone?
How does it look from the outside
When you're leaving home?"
