

Buddahead, Strong

I'm strong but I've lost the way.
Have faith in me and don't throw me away
Because I could be just like you.

Now I'm strong, better everyday.
Let's start again and throw away the chains.
I want to lift the curtains I've drawn.

I'm strong and I can do anything that I want.
It feels so wrong but I will try anyway because I can.

Now I'm strong.
I'm never turning back to feeling small.
Life is too fast and all I need is somewhere to stand.
