Buggles, Adventures In Modern Recording

There's a kid in a band Got an axe in his hand He's been learning all the chords and he's writing all the words Today you bought a new face Tried it on for size Now you see the world through Different coloured eyes They're not playing They're not playing They're just having Adventures in modern recording Adventures in modern recording Adventures in modern recording So carefully directed For modern mass appeal Look just like a poster Got yourself a deal Let's begin promotion This boy has got it made Media exposure It will make him all the rage But he's not playing He's not playing He's just having Adventures in modern recording Adventures in modern recording Adventures in modern recording