Built To Spill, Conventional Wisdom

Sometimes life surprises cause youd never expect it to be that dangerous disguises that you never expect to see some things never change nothings gonna change that some things you cant explain like why we're all embracing conventional wisdom in a world thats just so unconventional made you turn around but you never expected to see that thats what makes that sound that you never expect to hear some things never change some things wanna change that some things you cant explain like why we're all embracing conventional wisdom in a world thats just so unconventional they dont know theyre wrong but you know that they never can see that thats what makes them strong that they know that we'll never see