

Built To Spill, Get A Life

you can't tell me that you don't know who you are it's there from the start it comes with the package any attempt that you make to escape this useless and unnecessary make up your mind make it up as you go make it the truth
make it what you already know she said that's not what she said unthink the things in your head it's just a white that you red Chris went right over their heads you can't be anything you can't be nothing
you can't be anything
you can't be nothing
you can't be anything
you can't be nothing
you can't be anything
you can't be nothing
you can't be nothing
you can't be anything if you can't be nothing
