

Built To Spill, Hazy

hazy

just because sometimes you make me crazy just because sometimes you let me know

I don't

maybe

today will show me the something that will phase me something that will move me besides dreams it seems seems like

lately

everything I see and hear makes me angry even what I say and do myself what else can I say I'm still waiting for this moment to be gone million mile second a million thoughts in one high and wondering why so loud and bright

I ain't got no idea what the hell is going on
