

Burden Of A Day, The Smile That Kils

Im sill so glad youre here
Lets make the most of the time we share
Im still here
Dancing so long
Singing my song
Wearing so well
A smile that kills
The glamour that holds
My soul at will
Check me out
Mirror oh mirror on the wall
Whos the fairest see them fall
Whos the fairest of them all
The sick relation
Of what weve come to know
The congregation
Of our fine feathered souls (Were gonna fly)
We have the comfort
We have the comfort of
Were here today and gone tomorrow
Its time to play so let it all go
So hold on tight
Were in for the ride of your life
Were gonna play it over and over again
We find ourselves here
So far from home
Our eyes have tall tails
Dark lines have shown us
So turn your eyes dear
Dont watch my heart fade
Just dim the house lights
And like we all have said
It was worth all the while
The sick relation
Of what weve come to know
The congregation
Of our fine feathered souls (Were gonna fly)
We have the comfort
We have the comfort of
Were here today and gone tomorrow
Its time to play so let it all go
So hold on tight
Were in for the ride of your life
Were gonna play it over and over again
Your place is here in our hearts
