Burden Of A Day, The Smile That Kils

Im sill so glad youre here

Lets make the most of the time we share

Im still here

Dancing so long

Singing my song

Wearing so well

A smile that kills

The glamour that holds

My soul at will

Check me out

Mirror oh mirror on the wall

Whos the fairest see them fall

Whos the fairest of them all

The sick relation

Of what weve come to know

The congregation

Of our fine feathered souls (Were gonna fly)

We have the comfort

We have the comfort of

Were here today and gone tomorrow

Its time to play so let it all go

So hold on tight

Were in for the ride of your life

Were gonna play it over and over again

We find ourselves here

So far from home

Our eyes have tall tails

Dark lines have shown us

So turn your eyes dear

Dont watch my heart fade

Just dim the house lights

And like we all have said

It was worth all the while

The sick relation

Of what weve come to know

The congregation

Of our fine feathered souls (Were gonna fly)

We have the comfort

We have the comfort of

Were here today and gone tomorrow

Its time to play so let it all go

So hold on tight

Were in for the ride of your life

Were gonna play it over and over again

Your place is here in our hearts
