

Burning Heads, Going Nowhere

Everywhere i've heard the sound,
I've seen there lying on the ground,
Men in the streets with no reply,
All left alone where's humankind,

You know they're going nowhere,
Dont tell me,
Things will never change,
You say it's not your problem,
But now it's time to re-arrange,

When we all lose the game,
When there is nothing left to burn,
Where will you go?
When there is nothing but a song to remind you,
What you've earned and what you've lost
Where will you go?

You know you're going nowhere,
Dont tell me,
You make no bones about it,
I've heard this song everywhere,
I tell you,
Dont lose the spirit,

We call for action, not false illusions,
Or running in circles revolution,

It's all together, no false illusions,
One after one destroy the walls,
That separate us,

Don't separate us.
