

Burton Cummings, Will You Show Me

Don't you ever wonder how love can fall apart
Everything is scattered, pieces in the dark
Doesn't it surprise you, come from behind,
Sayin' this is the last time...
Show me
How am I supposed to love you...
Oh baby will you show me,
How am I supposed to love you...

Don't you ever notice how love can slip away
Disappears in the maze of another crazy day...
Doesn't really matter, you do just what you do,
And nothing seems to touch you...
Oh baby will you show me,
How am I supposed to love you?

I got big dreams
You got big eyes...
Will you show me
How am I supposed to love you...
Big plans that don't include me,
Big plans with someone,
Oh lover with you show me
How am I supposed to love you...
