Butler Bernard, Woman I Know

Well I feel so alive, got no reason to hide, there ain't any woman I know, that's got me so high. I got things on my mind that will reach you in time, there ain't any woman I know, that's got me so high. And though she really lied, yes though she really lied there ain't any woman I know that's got me so high. And though we really tried, yes though we really tried there ain't an emotion I know, so low, so low. Got a reason to stay she's taken the pain from yesterday, got a reason to stay she's got no rhythm, she says, she's got no rhythm, she says. So I feel so alive got no reason to hide, but there ain't an emotion I know, so low so low
