

By Heart, Remember My Name

Now it doesn't matter, I leave it all behind
I never meant to cause you any pain
I stand outside your circle among the ones who tried
And now I sell my soul to anyone

Remember my name, remember me my friend
Before it must come to an end
Remember my name for every time I lied
Tonight I forget who I am
Who I am'

Now it doesn't matter, my friends are dead and gone
They left me here and took their final fee
I raise my voice and scream out to anyone around
I bite my tongue when echoes strike me down

Remember my name, remember me my friend
Before it must come to an end
Remember my name for every time I lied
Tonight I forget who I am
Who I am'

Now it doesn't matter, I leave it all behind
I'm going down one minute a time

Remember my name, remember me my friend
Before it must come to an end
Remember my name for every time I lied
Tonight I forget who I am
Who I am'